"Summer Is Here"

By Bill Duffy

Quote from BUS,
"Summer creates opportunities for us as churches to engage our communities. Outside activities become possible. This allows us to engage people in the places they gather and for us to use our own outdoor spaces to make easy invitational opportunities. I thought it might be helpful to spark your imagination to mention a few projects from around our family of churches."

Normally our devotions would centre around encouraging each other in our lives as lay preachers. For this devotion, I would like to do something different. I would like to remind us all of the opportunities we have as the summer holidays draw closer. Not only in actively participating in any outreach work our own fellowship might be planning, but also supporting these activities and those of fellowships near to us in prayer.

Quote from BUS,
"BUS Younger will once again be hosting a camp, which will see young people from a number of our churches camping in the BUS Younger camping village. As well as fantastic teaching from Mike Pilavachi and Andy Croft, there will be great times of worship in the big top with worship leaders Beth Croft and Dan Goodright. There will also be a whole host of seminars on a wide variety of topics on how we live out our faith in daily life."

In our prayer times, let us also remember the children's holiday clubs run not only by BUS but also S.U. and other similar bodies. As we pray for the children, we are supporting the different groups in their work to reach out to the children so that they can come to an understanding of Christ's love for them.

So my word for this week is this. This summer, let us not become so focused on our lives as lay preachers that we fail to see the opportunities we have during the coming holiday season.
